Stand With Washington's Farmworkers

Demonstration at Windmill
Farms in Sunnyside, WA

Why It Matters

✓ Washington has no law requiring employers to recognize or bargain with farmworker unions. Even when workers organize!

✓ This can mean low wages, unsafe or hostile working conditions, and retaliation for speaking up, like at Windmill Farms in the Yakima Valley.

✓ Farmworkers feed us all. When they're treated fairly, our whole community thrives.

How You Can Help
